

www.dothan.org Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting the City of Dothan website. The City of Dothan is committed to protecting our customers' privacy.

The City of Dothan does not, without your knowledge and permission, collect personal information about you or regarding the reasons for your visit to <http://www.dothan.org>. Please be aware, however, that our web server automatically gathers and stores non-identifiable information. We use this information only to evaluate and improve our website's content to make it more useful to our visitors.

This website currently does use "cookies" (the simple text files stored on your computer by your web browser that are used for applications purposes and as part of the authentication process). No sensitive information is stored in these cookies.

If you choose to send us an e-mail that includes personal information, we will generally use the information only to respond to your message and for no other purposes. Occasionally, however, we may forward your e-mail to a different department that may be better able to help you. Your e-mail address may also be entered on your account for future reference and for correspondence purposes by City of Dothan staff. We do not use the information to create personal profiles or give it to others for commercial use or other purposes. If you send us a threat or a message that describes or promotes unlawful activity, we may share it with law enforcement authorities.

Unless you voluntarily provide personal information to us when inquiring about or requesting specific services, we will not ask you for or track any personal information for any purpose.

The City of Dothan will not resell or distribute any site-visitor data, including information that may be collected via our online survey or as a natural result of your visit.
