PUBLIC FORUM SCHEDULED TO DISCUSS PROPOSED ANIMAL CONTROL ORDINANCE

The public is invited to attend a forum on Tuesday, January 22, 2008, to discuss the proposed City of Dothan Animal Control Ordinance. The forum will be held at Doug Tew Community Center, located at 300 Garland Street, at 6:00 p.m.

The City of Dothan has experienced and continues to experience a large population growth with a corresponding growth in its animal population. The City recognizes its responsibility to promote responsible pet ownership and to uphold the care and custody of animals in the interest of public health, safety and welfare.

“The forum on January 22 is an opportunity for the City Commission to listen to the public input,” said Dothan’s Public Information Officer Cynthia Green. She continued, “This is an issue that is important to most everyone. The City of Dothan wants to do what’s best to improve the current law.”
