

Information Pertaining to the novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) (update 1)

The City of Dothan has been closely monitoring the situation relating to the spread of the novel Coronavirus (COVID-19). As many citizens are already aware, the state of Alabama confirmed it's first case of the virus today.

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) leads the national effort to keep the public informed as to the most up-to-date information concerning the spread of the virus. The CDC also provides information on ways that we can maintain our vigilance in protecting ourselves and helping to stop the spread of the disease – issues like social distancing (maintaining a 6 foot safe distance from others), touch-free meetings, covering all coughs and sneezes, thorough hand washing for more than 20 seconds, and avoiding large crowds in enclosed spaces, etc.

The Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH), in conjunction with the CDC, is leading our state's response to the pandemic. The Governor's Office is coordinating efforts with ADPH to inform Alabama's citizens of important and timely information necessary in moving forward with this situation.

The City of Dothan's administrative staff have been meeting over the past weeks to ensure that all of the City's resources are being marshalled and called into action for the well-being of our citizens. Action plans have been put into place that will ensure we are all cared for at the highest level possible. Local blood supplies are low and individuals are encouraged to give blood now to support potential local needs, not pertaining to the spread of COVID-19.

The City's main focus right now is ensuring that all of our citizens are well-informed with current information that will be helpful in navigating our lives in the days ahead. Below, you will find useful links to current information that will be helpful to you and your families.
